Section 1.4 of the Glacier Ridge ASP

1.4 PLAN AREA ATTRIBUTES

TOPOGRAPHY AND NATURAL FEATURES

Glacier Ridge is characterized by a varied topography. Symons Valley, with a variety of sandstone outcroppings forms the boundary where the coulees and rolling terrain of the west half of the Plan Area transitions to gently undulating prairie landscape on the east side. Currently, much of the landscape displays its history of cultivation and ranching with some coulees and creek areas left in a natural or semi-natural state.

Glacial erratics and a glacial scour are located east of the creek. The erratics are part of the 10,000 year old Foothills Erratic Train that stretched in a narrow belt from a rock outcrop in the Mount Edith Cavell area of Jasper National Park over 600 km to southwestern Alberta.
