A photograph of the Spark Science Centre building at dusk. The building is constructed from a grid of vertical and horizontal metal panels, which are illuminated from within, creating a warm, golden glow. A large black sign is mounted on the building's facade, featuring the Spark logo and the text "THANK YOU SCIENTISTS". The sky above is a deep blue with some light clouds. In the foreground, a dark, paved area with a yellow line is visible. The overall scene is a tribute to scientists, as indicated by the sign and the title.
