

Background

Commenced in 2016, Chinatown Phase 1 work was undertaken with the purpose of assessing the need for a culturally-based Area Redevelopment Plan for one of Calgary's most culturally distinctive neighbourhoods. Phase 1 wrapped up in the summer of 2018 with unanimous support from Council, directing Administration to develop a Cultural Plan for Chinatown and integrate cultural considerations into a new Area Redevelopment Plan (PUD2018-0514).

On 2019 March 18, Council approved the overall funding framework (PFC2019-0282 & PFC2019-0294) for Chinatown Phase 2 work to deliver the Chinatown Cultural Plan and the culturally-based Area Redevelopment Plan, hereon in referred to as Tomorrow's Chinatown. At their 2019 September 4 meeting, the SPC on PUD (PUD2019-1108) approved the final scope that allowed the project to commence with hiring the Cultural Plan consultant through a Request for Proposal process.

Context

Tomorrow's Chinatown is a City-led project that is working together with community stakeholders to create the first ever area-based cultural plan and a new Area Redevelopment Plan (ARP) for Chinatown. The focus of the project is to ensure that Chinatown thrives to be a vibrant, culturally-rich place to live, visit, work, and do business for generations to come.

In 2016, the extensive engagement carried out on the future of Calgary's Chinatown highlighted concerns about the erosion of the unique cultural identity and viability of Chinatown, including but not limited to the built environment.

Through Tomorrow's Chinatown project, and specifically the culturally-informed ARP a master plan for Calgary Chinatown will be developed to ensure that development proposals for Chinatown are evaluated against an updated policy that adequately addresses the unique history and cultural character of Chinatown. The new ARP will provide a consistent reference point and certainty to developers, community stakeholders and decision-makers.
