

Westbrook Communities
Local Area Planning

Engagement Summary

Together, over a three-year period with thousands of participants, a local area plan for the Westbrook Communities was created.

A robust multi-phased public engagement process was undertaken to create the Westbrook Communities Local Area Plan (the Plan). Thousands of ideas and comments were shared, compiled, reviewed, and used to shape and refine content and concepts within the Plan.

The Westbrook Communities

Highlights: Public Participation

From fall 2019 – fall 2022, conversations about where, why and how revitalization and redevelopment should happen took place with a range of participants. Thousands of individuals were involved in the creation of the Plan from youth to seniors, residents and business owners, community association and development industry representatives and a dedicated and diverse working group that provided in-depth insights and feedback.

Engagement Approach

A multi-phased approach enabled discussion, consideration, creation and refinement of the local area plan with participants over time. Information and education about key considerations, benefits and tradeoffs were woven directly into the engagement topics within each phase to build participant capacity as each chapter of the local area plan was engaged on and refined.

An iterative approach allowed for education and discussions to start at a broad and visionary level and progress to become more focused and refined through the process. The local area plan itself goes from visionary (Chapter 1) to more focused local-specific guidance and direction (Chapter 2), to very specific investment priorities and implementation options (Chapter 3). Aligning the phases of engagement to the creation and refinement of each chapter provided participants with iterative opportunities for feedback with clear outputs at the end of each phase.

“Encourage cycling/walking – I hope that any redevelopment will strongly favour alternative forms of transportation, and not be ‘car-centric’ like we see in many new developments.”

Engagement Guiding Principles

1. Phased Program

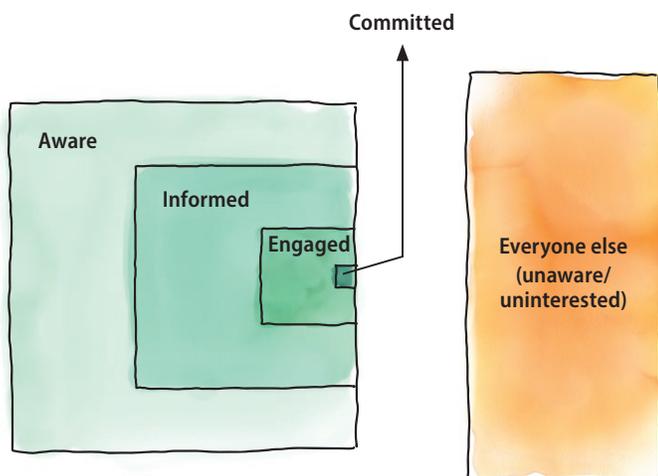

The engagement process for the Westbrook Communities Local Area Planning project was designed as a multi-phased approach. Input was collected at key intervals throughout the planning process to help influence the Plan as it was created and to provide multiple touch points and opportunities to for participants to get involved.

2. Inclusive Process

The needs of participants were considered through the process and the project team removed as many barriers to participation as possible. Effort was made to ensure public engagement was accessible to all, despite potential limitation that might prevent them from being included in the process. A key objective was to ensure that at the very least, people within the area were aware of the opportunity to participate and understood that we are interested in hearing from them. Accessibility accommodations were also available for engagement by request via 311.

3. Participation Interests & Intensity

Out of thousands of participants within the Westbrook Communities, we know that people will land in various places in terms of their participation interest level. Despite our best efforts, some people will never really be aware or are simply uninterested in getting involved, some are highly engaged and committed, and many fall somewhere in between. The engagement process was designed to cater to a broad spectrum of participation interests and intensities – based on the corresponding levels of interest, time and energy participants are wanting, willing and able to commit.

A broad mix of communications and engagement tools and techniques were used to ensure that people were reached and able to get involved at a level and through a method that best suited their needs. The tools and techniques used for the Westbrook Communities Local Area Plan project were informed by: communications and engagement best practices, local demographics and socioeconomic information, participant feedback, lessons learned through the project and the impacts of an evolving global pandemic.

4. Grassroots Conversations

Throughout our engagement process, there was a focus on getting out into the community, building relationships and building mutual and shared understanding. We aimed to achieve this by getting the project team out on the community to meet people where they are, igniting interest and involvement in conversations about change and redevelopment, ensuring the project team met people face-to-face where possible, but also virtually to ensure everyone was able to get involved. Toolkits were also resources were also provided directly to underrepresented groups and community leaders with existing community connections to support community-based conversations. A key objective was to ensure the topics being discussed and opportunities for involvement were presented and discussed in ways that were clear, understandable and inviting. Another key objective was to be open, honest and transparent in all conversations and to be available to meet and answer questions at any time through the process.

5. Clear Engagement Reporting

Transparency and an open process was demonstrated through clear reporting and connecting the dots between the input that was provided and how it considered as decisions were made through the process. What We Heard reports were created and shared following each phase of engagement that shared verbatim feedback as well as key themes. What We Did reports were also created for each phase of the project, outlining how the project team considered and responded to each of key themes that emerged through each phase of the project.

Opportunities for Involvement

A variety of opportunities for involvement were available through the process that aimed to accommodate a range of participation interest and intensities (high, medium, low) and remove a range of barriers to participation (time, understanding, trust, audio/visual, mobility, internet, language, etc.).

Westbrook Communities Working Group Sessions

The Westbrook Communities Local Area Planning project offered the opportunity to apply to join a multi-community working group – this would be considered a high-interest/high-intensity opportunity. The working group was designed to have more in-depth discussions, diving deeper into public feedback and guiding planning policy, and building on the knowledge and insights of previous sessions.

Through a recruitment process, 39 members of the broader community as well as community association and development industry representatives were selected to participate in dialogue of the planning interests of the entire area. The working group participated in a number of sessions where they brought different perspectives, viewpoints, ideas and concerns to the table. The working group expanded on the ideas and concerns shared by the broader community and acted as a sounding board for the project team as content and concepts for the local area plan were drafted.

In-person & Virtual Engagement Sessions (public, community association & development industry representatives)

In-person and virtual engagement sessions were offered to the general public as medium interest/intensity opportunities. Virtual engagement sessions were offered throughout the project via Microsoft Teams as a method to engage virtually and directly with the project team. In addition to the public opportunities, in-person and virtual engagement sessions were also offered for community association board members and development industry representatives.

“Thank you for the opportunity to comment, I look forward to the next phase and a refined/ updated plan.”

Mailed Engagement Packages

Engagement packages and booklets were mailed to households and businesses in Westbrook Communities area to ensure people were aware of the project, had key information directly in their hands, had the option of mailing a feedback form as alternative option to in-person, virtual or online engagement. Mailed engagement packages that included a pre-paid feedback form were an alternate medium interest/intensity way to provide feedback (pre-paid postage was included to reduce financial barriers associated to return postage fees).

My Idea Stations

In-community My Idea Stations were placed at high-traffic and accessible locations throughout the Westbrook Communities to ensure a physical presence in the community to help raise awareness and as vessels to share information and collect feedback. In addition, if someone did not receive a mailed engagement package or booklet, they were able to pick one up at one of the nine My Idea Stations in the plan area or download a booklet online.

Conversation Starter Kits

Conversation Starter Kits were created and distributed to targeted community partner organizations like Seniors Facilities, Junior High Schools and Affordable Housing Providers to directly reach and provide on-site opportunities to provide feedback. The conversation kits included information packages, comment cards, pens and locked in a concealed comment card collection box.

Pop-up Engagement

Ten pop-up engagement opportunities were offered as a low-medium interest/intensity opportunity and alternative to online engagement. Pop-up engagement took place at high-traffic locations throughout the plan area (dog parks, grocery stores, recreation centres and libraries, etc) in the early phases of the project. This got the project team into the communities to meet people where they naturally spend their time. Pop-up engagements were used to let people know about the project, to recruit people to apply to join the working group and to collect feedback in the first phase of engagement.

Online Engagement

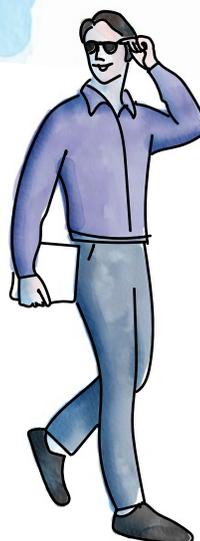

Online engagement opportunities were offered as a low-medium interest/intensity opportunity. Online engagement at Calgary.ca/Westbrook was available within each phase for weeks at a time as an option for people to get involved at a time and place that worked for them. Within each phase of the project, multiple topics were open for input. Online engagement provided people with a quick and easily accessible opportunity to get involved.

Community Walk-and-talks

Nine walk-and-talk sessions were held with community representatives out in the community. The project team walked around the communities of Shaganappi, Killarney, Rosscarrock, Spruce Cliff, Wildwood, Westgate, Richmond, Glendale, Glenbrook, with community members who were interested in discussing specific areas of their communities.

“In Core Values, I believe you have included important needs such as protecting open spaces, recreational, cultural, art and community activity areas as well as local businesses in Main Street and other areas.”

Key Themes

High-level themes (from all phases of engagement)

- Citizens cite traffic safety concerns including dangerous intersections, speeding/cutting through communities, and unsafe pedestrian crossings.
- Citizens would like vacant lots and vacant open spaces to be developed in a timely manner in the Westbrook communities.
- Citizens hope for the Westbrook Mall area to be redeveloped/revitalized.
- Citizens hope for complete communities that include a variety of commercial, retail, and cultural opportunities in the area.
- Citizens shared concerns that increased growth and density will bring an increase in crime in the area.
- Citizens shared concerns over the loss of community feel/character as a result of increased densification.
- Citizens expressed a desire to maintain communities with single-detached homes as single-detached only.
- Citizens expressed concerns of any type of proposed 4+ storey growth in the plan area. Many focused around impact to community character.
- Citizens shared concerns about specific locations in the plan area that have been proposed for 4+ storey growth.
- Citizens shared positive sentiment for the 4+ story growth near Transit Station Areas as it was proposed.
- Citizens expressed that they wanted to see small-scale 3+ unit homes on main streets only.
- Citizens expressed that they wanted to see to see small-scale 3+ unit homes near transit/LRT only.
- Citizens expressed concern in regard to privacy and shading and the proposed small-scale 3+ unit homes.
- Citizens expressed a desire for more investments in safety in the plan area such as train stations and traffic.
- Citizens expressed that they would like to see preservation and protection of green spaces, parks, and urban forest.
- Citizens shared positive sentiments about proposed investment priorities.
- Citizens feel that development should not be adjacent to parks, recreational facilities, schools, and playgrounds.
- Citizens feel that there is sunlight, shading and privacy concerns.
- Citizens shared that they would like to see more focus on housing affordability and small-scale housing options.
- Citizens expressed that they value revitalization and the need to adhere to appropriate and balanced growth in the entire plan area, and across all communities.

“If lots are getting smaller, the value of community green spaces goes way up as individual residents don’t necessarily have their own yards.”

Engagement Summary

Phase 1: Envision

This phase was focused on looking back at the past, understanding the present and envisioning the future of the area. Initial engagement took place with the public and targeted participants from fall 2019 to fall 2020. After a pause due to the pandemic, we reconnected with the public and targeted participants again from fall 2021 to winter 2022 to validate what was heard previously and to provide opportunities for input on the initial draft of the first chapter of the local area plan.

Phase 1 Public Engagement – Key Themes

Phase 1.1

The high-level themes that emerged throughout all of the comments received in phase one include:

- Citizens value the area’s proximity to amenities and regional destinations (Bow River, Edworthy Park, Douglas Fir Trail, downtown etc.).
- Citizens value the diverse options of local businesses in the area such as food & beverage establishments, and a variety of shops.
- Citizens value the pathway system and dedicated bike lanes in the area making it easy to connect to parks and downtown.
- Citizens identified that the revitalization of commercial buildings & strip malls would help the overall esthetic of the area and help to attract new businesses to the area.
- Citizens shared concerns over a lack of engagement and inclusion in the decision-making process and a lack of trust for decisions made about their communities.
- Citizens cite traffic safety concerns including dangerous intersections, speeding/cutting through communities, and unsafe pedestrian crossings.
- Citizens would like vacant lots and vacant open spaces to be developed in a timely manner in the Westbrook communities.
- Citizens hope for the Westbrook Mall area to be redeveloped/revitalized.
- Citizens hope for complete communities that include a variety of commercial, retail, and cultural opportunities in the area.
- Citizens shared concerns that increased growth and density will bring an increase in crime in the area.
- Citizens shared concerns over the loss of community feel/character as a result of increased densification.

Phase 1.2

- Walking and wheeling safety
The most frequently raised issue was related to pedestrians and cycling. Participants liked that the value of active modes of travel had been recognized but some emphasized the need to look at unexpected obstacles, like noise and feelings of safety.
- Keeping some areas for single family homes
As in past engagement phases, many participants were in favour of keeping at least some R1 zoning in their own community. However, some also expressed support for diversity in housing types.
- Roads and infrastructure
Many participants identified roads and traffic-related issues as things to be considered for inclusion.
- Shopping and dining
Shopping and dining options within walking distance were important to participants for convenience and community character but some pointed out that changes can inadvertently make them less likely to walk to nearby amenities.
- Environment participants were pleased that green spaces and parks were included, and a variety of comments expanded on the value to including guidelines for developers to protect biodiversity and adding dog-specific parks to The City’s plans to protect the area.
- Reducing crime
Concerns about feeling unsafe and increased crime were raised by participants in their thoughts about the Past and Present, as well as Future for the area. Some linked it with the increased visibility of homelessness, but some were more general in their comments or identified specific issues they would like to be considered in Values.

"I hope in the long term for the area in and around Westbrook Mall to be developed to create a hub for the surrounding communities that is vibrant and features a greater diversity of amenities. Allow this to be an area that attracts people, including small business opportunities akin to areas like Inglewood."

- CITIZEN

"Walking to school is an important thing too, which is being lost to school busing and kids being driven to school leading to schools surrounded by cars, trucks and SUVs all sitting, idling for half an hour or more. Not an environmentally good thing."

Local Area Plan – Key Considerations

Local Area Plan

Context & Trends

What is the current context of the area? What is changing when it comes to population demographics, needs and trends?

Equity

How do we plan for equity within our communities and city?

Public Input

What ideas, insights, opportunities and concerns have been raised by the public and other participants?

Professional Expertise

What are the urban planning best practices, what is economically feasible and technically possible?

City Policies

How do we ensure alignment to the Municipal Development Plan, Climate Strategy and other City policies?

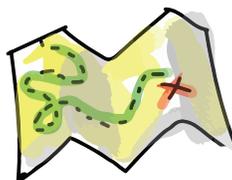

Creating the Local Area Plan

PHASE 1 ENVISION

Looking back at the past, understanding the present and envisioning the future of the area.

PHASE 2 EXPLORE

Exploring where and how growth and change could happen in the area.

PHASE 3 REFINE

Refining the plan and confirming the investment priorities.

What We Heard & What We Did Reports

The Westbrook Communities Local Area Plan was informed by input provided by thousands of participants over multiple phases and multiple years. The Westbrook Communities Local Area Plan sets the vision for the evolution of the area over the next 30 years – providing direction on future development and investment that residents, landowners, builders/developers, City Planners and Councillors can commonly refer to as new development and investment ideas are proposed.

For more detailed information about what was heard through the project or to learn more about how input provided in each phase informed the creation and refinement of the Westbrook Communities Local Area Plan, please review the following What We Heard & What We Did Reports.
