Applicant Submission

Company Name (if applicable): Designhaus Studio Inc Applicant's Name: Rob Kieboom Date: October 27, 2023	LOC Number (office use only):
The proposed application is for a three storey four unit multi-residential on two lots on the corner of 54th Avenue s.W. The site itself is naturally flat in nature and does not require any retaining walls or slope adaptive design.
The R-CG zoning for these joined parcels allows for a development of grade-oriented units all with independent access from grade. The intending land-use are that they are to be in close proximity to low density resoutdoor space for social interaction, and provides for a variety of build fulfilliation of our development.	ded use for developments under sidential developments, provides
Parking on site is managed by four private garages each with storage with so no additional enclosures are necessary on site to house these the during collection and stored out of site when not required. The communant there are numerous examples of modestly intensive developments immediate vicinity of this site with the nearest example directly across the This development complies with the site coverage rules in the Bylaw, the well above the minimum amenity space requirements with private of the private of the site of the private of the site of the private of the site of the private of	oins. They will be brought out hity has been changing over time of a similar scale in the he alley on another corner parcel. he landscape requirements and