Table 3: Minimum Intensity Thresholds and Density Targets

Land Use	Minimum Intensity (People & Jobs per Gross Developable Hectare)	Minimum Density (Units per Gross Developable Residential Hectare)
Neighbourhood Area	Neighbourhood Areas outside of the Employment Area, Activity Centres, and Transit Station Planning Areas must provide sufficient intensity to achieve 60 people and jobs per hectare at a Community level.	20*
Neighbourhood Corridor	100
Transit Station Planning Area	100
Community Activity Centre	150
Employment Area	50	n/a

* The Area Structure Plan was amended in 2024 to convert a portion of Employment Area lands to Neighbourhood Area. Because this amendment occurred after the approval of the Calgary Metropolitan Region Board Growth Plan (2022), the plan area identified on Map 10A must meet a minimum density of 25 Units per Gross Developable Residential Hectare.

 People and jobs in the Community Activity Centres may contribute towards intensity in the Transit Station Planning Areas. High School students (1500) are not counted toward Community Activity Centre intensity or Transit Station Planning Area intensity, but may contribute to overall Community intensity.

 Jobs in the Employment Area contribute towards overall Community intensity, and areas are included in the gross developable areas of the Communities.
