For context, I chose to live in Altadore for many reasons. Relative affordability, a quiet neighbourhood, easy access to Crowchild Trail and quick access to parks to name a few. I reside on Acton Avenue and have a 8 plex apartment build across the street from me with plenty of room for parking. So, I am not against density increases overall, nor a diversified neighbourhood. I do think there are limits that our infrastructure can handle. (I won't even get into the deplorable shape that 16th Street, 20th Street and 50th avenue have been it for years now). I have watch with interest as to how "things went" with the condo complex on the corner of 48th Ave and 16th Street. Beyond the regular complaints of it's too busy, I have seen a parking problem arise. Both the street and avenue are packed....all the time. So what? Well many of the large SUV's and trucks parked on the 16th street block the sight lines and i have personally witness several close calls as children and adults alike have been nearly hit. To jam as many condos or apartment in every instance, because you can, is not a consistent policy with what this neighbourhood represents and what I thought I was buying into when I purchased my house. I not asking for a complete dismissal of this proposed rezoning but can we please do about 1/2 of whatever the developer is asking (I couldn't find any specifics on the number of dooers). The safety and harmony of our neighbourhood is at stake.
