Application requirements: Some uses and districts note that specific items must be shown on plans for a development permit. Other uses, which require the same items, do not note that these must be shown on plans. These amendments look to remove these types of application requirements, which are inconsistent and can be confusing. Section 26 notes that applications for development permits “must provide such information as may be required by Reduced side setback depth for the R-G(R-Gm) districts: Typically low density residential districts allow the side setback area to be reduced on one side to 0m if a private maintenance easement is placed on the neighbouring parcel and is registered on both titles. This amendment introduces a modified version of this, where one side setback may be reduced to 0.6m in the R-G(R-Gm) district as long as private maintenance easements are registered on both titles, which combined must be at least 1.50 metres.

Structured parking for Public Transit Systems: The Public Transit System use does not allow for structured parking. As such, when a structure is desired, it must be done under the Parking Lot-Structure use, which is not always listed in the district. This amendment proposes listing Parking Lot - Structure in all districts if it is being used for a Public Transit System.

Privacy walls on balconies for low density residential districts: Allow all balconies for low density residential homes to have a privacy wall on a balcony with a maximum height of 3m. This aligns with the requirements for contextual homes that must have a privacy wall on a balcony between 2.0-3.0 metres in height where the balcony faces a side property line with another parcel.
cc)	340(2.1)(a)	(2.1) Unless otherwise referenced in this Part, a privacy wall located on a balcony : (a) must not exceed 2.0 metres in height when measured from the surface of the balcony ; and	(2.1) Unless otherwise referenced in this Part, a privacy wall located on a balcony : (a) must not exceed 3.0 metres in height when measured from the surface of the balcony ; and

Parking lot use definitions: A slight adjustment in the phrasing, which does two things: one, uses similar phrasing to most uses in the Land Use Bylaw, and two, allows for clearer enforcement.
